

Style report: Lapidus, Alexey M.

Southall Congress 260620 U2400. OTB source PGNs: 129; unique games analysed: 129 from unknown date to 2026.03.08. Latest known game: 2026.03.08 vs Freeman, Luke as White (*).

Young, active and increasingly rounded. The OTB file is 1.e4-heavy as White with recent English junior/event broadcasts, while his Black games most often use Sicilian answers to 1.e4 plus flexible ...Nf6/...d5 structures against d-pawn systems.

Online Account Context

Clear overlap: 1.e4 as White, Sicilian-heavy Black repertoire against 1.e4, and ...d5/...e6 structures against 1.d4. The account remains stale, but the opening profile supports the identity.

Strengths

- Large recent broadcast sample means his current habits are visible and tournament-tested.
- Comfortable playing long, technical junior-event games where small initiative changes matter.
- The stale Chess.com account still supports the broad identity/repertoire picture, but the OTB games are the main evidence.

Weaknesses To Test

- Because he is active and developing, old account games should not be over-weighted; use recent OTB move orders first.
- A flexible Modern/Pirc approach can make him solve fresh problems instead of entering a memorised 1.e4 main line.
- He can be pulled away from his Sicilian comfort if the move order asks him to build the centre himself.

Your Strategy

- Your Black prep with 1...g6 is a sensible practical sidestep. Know the Be3/Qd2, Bc4, and Bf4 branches so the sidestep does not become a time sink.
- Your White prep with 1.Nf3 d5 2.c4 c6 keeps options open and can avoid giving him a clean 1.e4 target.
- Against him, prioritise move-order discipline: do not let a flexible position turn into a familiar forcing line by accident.

Method

Opening and result statistics were calculated from the deduped combined app-side OTB prep PGN. Original source bucket counts are kept only as collection provenance and can exceed the final unique game total. Stockfish sampling checked target-side moves from move 5 onward in recent and result-diverse OTB games. Chess.com account comments use the existing Southall opening-comparison audit and are not merged into the OTB statistics unless explicitly stated.
